Reasons for Allowance:

The independent claim recites a method for processing calls over the Internet using personal routing rules assigned to agents and a limitation for the following:

"the managing processor comprising a router that stores a current set of routing rules specific to and accessible and editable by a person assigned to the computer"

The prior art teaches managing processors which stores VIP rules (current routing rules) that are specific to and accessible and editable by agents (person assigned to the computer). The prior art is different because the VIP rules are not stored on a router. New search updates revealed no other prior art which teaches the limitation in the context of the claims. Therefore, Claims 2-9 are indicated allowable.
